Echo of gang rape at Chamundi foothill...

Ladies PGs, hostels under Police scanner

Hi-tech Mobile Command Centre commissioned for city surveillance

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (RK&BCT)- The City Police have launched a special drive to check security measures at Ladies Paying Guest (PG) accommodations, working women's hostels and also girl student hostels.

The drive has been initiated after orders by City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta in the wake of recent gang rape at the foot of Chamundi Hill and also the shooting-cum-dacoity incident at a jewellery store in Vidyaranyapuram.

This apart, the entire mobile machinery including the hi-tech Mobile Command Centre has been pressed into service to team up with Garuda and PCR vehicles at isolated places to keep an eye on movements of criminals before they commit the crime and at the plotting stage itself.

Police vehicles on patrol near Kote Anjaneyaswamy temple in city this morning.

The Command Centre vehicle has advanced features including recording of the movements and will act as a deterrent to miscreants. Along with the surveillance of hostels, College campuses and other working women's hostels, the Command Centre will also patrol secluded spots and the Outer Ring Road, tracking the movements of people along with time, vehicle number and other details.

The database will be used to crack and prevent crimes.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta said that in the wake of brutal crimes and also as Dasara festival is approaching, the surveillance machinery has been stepped up. "Instructions have been passed on to all the Police Stations, especially where a majority of the ladies hostels are situated, to keep an eye on visitors and the inmates. Special Branch Officers have been asked to visit each PG accommodation and hostel and see if adequate security measures are in place," he said.

KSTDC happy as many opt for Ambaari trips

Tourists enjoy double-decker open-top bus ride

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (RK&BCT)- The beleaguered Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) that was in a fix after launching 'Ambaari' double-decker open-top hop-on and hop-off buses due to poor response from tourists following COVID and weekend lockdown, is elated now as the service is getting encouraging response.

On Sept. 5, 63 tourists went around the city in five trips that were covered by two buses. On Sept. 9, 55 tourists enjoyed city views in four trips; on Sept. 11, there were 72 tourists in 5 trips covered by two buses. On Sept. 12, 107 passengers took the service in 7 trips and today in the first trip, over 20 tourists took the bus ride.

The much-delayed service was relaunched on Sept. 4 after many postponements owing to the pandemic and also due to changed political leadership in Karnataka. Initially the response was poor and in August, KSTDC had to reschedule the roll out as not a single ticket (Rs. 250) was sold despite wide publicity.

'Ambaari' service, however, looked up after the weekend curfew was lifted, bringing a smile on tourists and also tour operators. Now with Dasara around, the service is expected to be operated in full capacity.

Mysuru has two such buses and sitting on their rooftop, tourists were seen cheering as the bus took them to over 35 destinations in a dedicated city route. Tourists gave thumbs-up to the special ride accompanied by an automated audio guide that explained the significance of tourist places as the bus stopped in front of them.

Interestingly, more than outstation tourists, local residents are coming in large numbers to enjoy the 'Ambaari' ride. Those interested may visit the KSTDC Office on JLB Road. There is no advance booking. Tickets are available on-the-spot. For details, contact Ph: 0821-2423652.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

You'll never find yourself reading a newspaper and your BP shooting up. The humble newspaper delivers your news to you. In the days of Doordarshan, news was rationed out — three times a day, like capsules ordered by the friendly, neighbourhood doctor. All the news of the world was summarised into 15-minute slots, neatly divided into politics, world, economics and sports. Back in the days of Doordarshan, there was no 'breaking' news. News didn't 'break' — it gently floated through the airwaves, travelled through the antennae installed on top of houses, and reached audiences in a civilised manner. With the abundance of platforms, and news being available on the internet and on social media, we imported western notions of news like paparazzi. We all got to witness the ugly face of TV news last year, with the death of actor Sushant Singh Rajput. Conspiracy theories, mud-slinging, accusations — it was an all-time low. The tragic part of it all was that we were in the midst of a global pandemic. Reports were flowing in of daily deaths, and there was an air of panic. We used the lockdown to become Sherlock Holmes. A newspaper might not have news bytes darting at you from the stratosphere — but you're guaranteed more peace of mind when compared to those who get news delivered as dopamine shots!

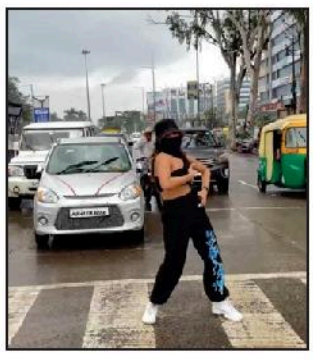
Weird slime spewing monster of the ocean

New York: The humble hagfish looks like just another species of ocean-dwelling eel, but they are something much weirder and at the same time fascinating. From the bizarre slime-like substance it produces as a defense mechanism, to the lack of a backbone, there's a whole lot of weirdness to address.

Hagfish is a primitive, virtually blind creature that spends its life on the bottom of the ocean, slithering and feeding mostly on dead or dying fish. It has a skull, but no jaw and no vertebral column. This allows them to tie their bodies into knots in order to scrape the sticky slime they produce off of their skin. They can burrow into dead or dying animals through various orifices and even through their skin – using two rows of keratinous teeth – and devour them from the inside. They don't need teeth, as they can absorb nutrients through the skin and can go months without eating.

Woman in trouble for dancing on road



Indore: A woman, who was filmed running across the road to dance for an Instagram video at a busy intersection at Indore in Madhya Pradesh, has landed in trouble with the Police serving her a notice for violating traffic rules.

The video shows the woman, identified as Kalra, running across the road to a zebra crossing as cars slowed to a halt. She then danced even as commuters waiting at the traffic signal looked bemused.

Madhya Pradesh Home Minister Narottam Mishra has said that action will be taken against the woman under the Motor Vehicles Acts and the video also attracted critical comments on social media.

Need a cut on the cut-outs and posters

Sir,

Big, colourful cut-outs of politicians and their kin, glorifying their birthdays, or putting up huge posters to welcome leaders on any occasion, are common now.

Of late, the passion has multiplied and we now see colourful flex boards fluttering around everywhere on a regular basis, at prime areas like traffic signals and over the medians on the busy Highways. Such bigger than life-like cut-outs and banners divert the attention of motorists, causing accidents.

I appeal to all concerned to reduce their sizes and numbers, and help motorists and pedestrians have a safe movement. The concerned local bodies too can take action to regulate this menace.

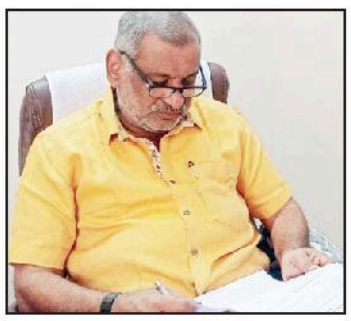
Rainwater harvesting mandatory in big residential sites

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (KMS & DM)- With drinking water becoming a scarcity as cities and towns are growing beyond limits, the State Government has tweaked the present rules governing water conservation, by enacting a Bill that makes it mandatory for owners of sites of dimensions 30'x40' and above to have a rainwater harvesting system.



J.C. Madhuswamy

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J.C. Madhuswamy tabled the Bill on behalf of Chief Minister S.R. Bommai in the Legislative Assembly yesterday. The House passed the Bill which envisages mandatory installation of a rainwater harvesting system in all homes built on sites measuring 30'x40' and above.

The Bill also makes it compulsory for sites measuring 40'x60' to have two major pipelines — one for collection of water and the other for supply and discharge.

Sources said that the Bill also gives a major boost for groundwater conservation, at a time when groundwater resources are getting depleted at alarming levels in almost all parts of the State. The rainwater harvesting system will also reduce the dependence on Cauvery, borewells or other sources of water for domestic use. This apart, the Bill aims to address drainage issues, which has become a huge problem in rapidly growing cities and towns.

HEART ATTACKS IN YOUNGER GENERATION

The heart attack was considered as a disease of aged people >65 years, but in the last decade there has been a paradigm shift as more and more people in the age group of 20-40 yrs are falling victim to it. Non-modifiable risk factors are age, sex, & genetic/family history. Modifiable risk factors include diabetes, hypertension, smoking, excessive alcohol intake, obesity, sedentary lifestyle. Newer risk factors noted in the younger generation include unhealthy lifestyle, stressful life, sedentary lifestyle, inadequate sleep, environmental pollution. Hereditary risk of heart disease is defined as having the first- degree male relative like father, brother or son under the age of 55 yrs with a heart attack or stroke history and first-degree female relatives like your mother, sister or daughter under the age of 65 yrs with a heart attack or stroke history. Heart attack can happen to anyone, but the risk is high when genetics come into play. Primary prevention is crucial for those with a family history of heart disease. Healthy lifestyle that includes quitting smoking, reduce alcohol intake, maintaining adequate BMI, controlling diabetes and hypertension, managing stress, regular exercise and eating nutritious food. Undergo basic health check-ups including cardiac evaluation by the age of 30 yrs.

Baby girl lived with 5 dead bodies for 5 days

The two-and-a-half-year-old was found in almost unconscious state

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (Agencies)- More horrific details have surfaced from the shocking suicide case of four members of a family and the death of a nine-month-old baby in Bengaluru. The family hailed from Hallagere in Mandya. The Police have rescued a minor girl who lived with the five dead bodies for five days in the house.

Five members of a family, including a nine-month-old child, were found dead at their residence at Thigalarapalya in Byadarahalli last. While the child starved to death, others hanged themselves, the Police said.

The deceased have been identified as Bharathi (51), Sinchana (34), Sindhurani (31), her nine-month-old son, and Madhusagar (25). The incident came to light around 5 pm when Bharathi's husband Shankar Hallagere, a journalist, returned home. He noticed the doors locked from inside and opened one of the windows to find his family members hanging. He later alerted the Police.

Family discord

Shankar, who runs a local newspaper, married Bharathi a few years ago. Sinchana, Sindhurani and Madhusagar were their children. The couple quarrelled frequently and on Sunday too they fought and Shankar walked out in a huff. He stayed in his office for two days and then went to Mysuru to meet his friends.

The two-and-a-half-year-old girl Preksha was found in an almost unconscious state and she lived in the house where the dead bodies were hanging from the ceiling. The girl was found in the room where Madhusagar was hanged. Preksha has been admitted to a private hospital. The Police said that she would need treatment and counselling.

Though it appears a case of suicide, it has to be confirmed in the post-mortem.

Soumendu Mukharjee, Additional Commissioner of Police (West), said that the reason for the five deaths is yet to be ascertained. "We have not found a death note from the house. Shankar is in a state of shock. He will be inquired as soon as he is fit," he said.

Fights with spouses

Meanwhile, Shankar has said that his daughters came home after fighting with their husbands. Instead of resolving the issue and sending them back to their husbands, his wife Bharathi encouraged them to stay back.

"I worked hard to get my daughters Sinchana and Sindhurani educated. Son Madhusagar was also an engineering graduate and worked in a private company. Sinchana had come back home after having a fight with her husband over an ear-piercing ceremony for their daughter. There were no issues regarding finances. They have taken extreme decisions on trivial issues," Shankar said.

Police said that neighbours have informed them that there was a fight between Shankar and his son Madhusgar. After the fight, Shankar had walked out of the house. After the incident, the family had committed suicide on Sunday.

Shankar told the Police that he called his family members for three days which went unanswered.

Minor raped inside farmhouse

Accused from Bihar arrested by Women Police; booked under POCSO Act

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (ACP& BCT)- A minor girl has been raped at a farmhouse at Halekempaiahnahundi village near T. Narasipur. The poverty-stricken victim's family had come from Shivamogga in search of work and the accused, working at a horse stable in the farmhouse, violated her, stated the girl's mother in her complaint.

Based on the complaint and with the cooperation of the farmhouse manager, the Women's Police Station sleuths arrested the accused from Bihar and have booked him under Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act and the Court has remanded him to judicial custody.

In her complaint, the little girl's mother has stated that the accused worked in the stable for horses in the farmhouse where her family was staying. The woman, her husband, their son and their 10-year-old daughter were working in the farmhouse due to poverty.

Last year, the family had contacted the farmhouse manager and told him that they could not manage their lives in Shivamogga and they had no means of income. They wanted to come to Mysuru and work.

Taking pity on their condition, the farmhouse manager agreed to give them a livelihood at the farmhouse along with work and accommodation. While the woman was given the responsibility of cooking, her husband worked in the fields. Because of certain problems associated with the procurement of the transfer certificate, the daughter, instead of attending school, was living with the family.

There are around 10 to 12 workmen in the farmhouse including the accused from Bihar who used to fix horseshoes to the hooves of horses. On Sept. 13, when the woman returned home, her daughter pleaded with her that the family must go back to Shivamogga instead of working in the farmhouse.

Taken aback by the sudden reaction, the woman consoled the girl and even reprimanded her. Later when she asked her daughter what made her think of going back to Shivamogga, the little girl revealed the shocking details of repeated rape and also the murder threat issued by the accused if the girl narrated the sexual violations to anyone.

Shockingly, the girl was unable even to comprehend what was happening to her and repeatedly sobbed while narrating the incidents to her mother that occurred in a room that housed certain machines in the farmhouse. Deeply disturbed, the woman then reported the incident to the farmhouse manager on Sept. 15.

After speaking to the girl, the manager immediately informed the Police and a complaint was lodged by the victim's mother at the Women's Police Station. The Police have arrested the accused and has been remanded to judicial custody.

KPYCC holds National Unemployment Day rally

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (UNI) - The Karnataka Pradesh Youth Congress Committee (KPYCC) workers on Friday staged a protest rally to mark Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday as "National Unemployment Day", demanding suitable jobs for all graduates in Karnataka.

PM Modi turned 71 on Friday. The rally began from Bengaluru City Railway Station and culminated at Freedom Park along with hundreds of Youth Congress workers.

The Indian Youth Congress (IYC) President B.V. Srinivasa said the party is planning to make the protest into a movement like Mahatma Gandhi's Quit India Movement.

"All are fed up with the Modi-led Government. People are waiting for an opportunity to show him the door. We will certainly intensify our stir," he said. Srinivasa said the stir would primarily focus on Modi's failure to provide "14 crore employment" in 2014.

"It is roughly estimated that nearly 20 crore people have lost their jobs since the BJP came to power at the centre," he said.

KPYCC President Raksha Ramaiah alleged that the country was witnessing a steep rise in crime rate ever since the pandemic broke out in March 2020.

"The country's crime rate has gone up by 33 percent and this shows that the steep rise in unemployment and rising crime rate is a most worrying factor. Hence, the Union Government led by Modi must take steps to correct his socio-economic policies," he stated.

The 17th edition of 'Bombe Mane,' an expo of exquisite dolls from across India, organised by Ramsons Kala Pratishtana (RKP), Mysuru, will be held throughout the year at 'Bombe Mane,' #91, above Aamrapali Saree Store, Nazarbad Main Road, from today (Sept. 18) between 10 am and 7.30 pm daily.

This special collection is a reflection of the city's cultural, social and religious heritage. Along with the exclusive dolls, 'Bombe Mane' has a huge collection of dolls, nearly 5,000 or so representing different facets of the country's cultural heritage.

Ramsons Kala Pratishtana has commissioned Channapatna dolls by giving its special designs of Peg Dolls which depict the Kodanda Rama set, the divine pairs of Radha Krishna, Brahma Saraswati, Shiva Parvati and Lakshmi Narayana.

The dioramas of Rama and his entourage flying in the Pushpaka Vimana, Kumbhakarna fighting in the battle, Navarasa, Surya Namaskara, Shravana Kumara taking his parents for pilgrimage are novel creations for this year's 'Bombe Habba.'

The dolls of Mysuru Chamundeshwari, Dharmasthala Manjunatha, Horanadu Annapoorneshwari, Kolluru Mookambika, Tulaja Bhavani and many more are new additions this year.

The following craft clusters across the country are dependant on their livelihood by creating these dolls: Wooden Miniature Models, Mysuru, Karnataka; Lathe turned wooden toys, Channapatna, Karnataka; Clay dolls, Panruti, TN; Paper mesh dolls, Villianur, Pondicherry; Lathe turned wooden toys, Ettikoppa, AP; Wooden dolls, Kerala; POP Dolls, Kolhapur, Maharashtra; Wooden Dolls, Kinhala, Karnataka; Clay dolls, Cuddalore, TN; Terracotta dolls, Villupuram, TN; Cloth stuffed dolls, Pondicherry; Light wood dolls, Kondapalli, AP; Wooden polychrome dolls, Varanasi, UP; Clay dolls, Krishnanagar, WB.

Dolls are reflective of our work culture, says theatre personality Prasanna

Mysuru, Sept.18 (SPN&DM)- Maintaining that the screening of foreign robotic dolls in social media platforms are not of much help for children, renowned theatre personality Prasanna said that the display of hand-crafted dolls, which are reflective of our rich culture and tradition, will help in promoting our work culture (Kayaka Samskruti).

He was speaking after inaugurating the 17th edition of 'Bombe Mane,' an expo of exquisite dolls from across India, organised by Ramsons Kala Pratishtana (RKP), Mysuru, at its premises in Nazarbad here last evening.

Bemoaning that with rapid advancement in science and technology children are getting used to learning through mobile and playing with robotic dolls, Prasanna, Founder of Charaka, Desi, Grama Seva Sangha and Ragi Kana, stressed on the need for parents to introduce their wards to our rich doll tradition and heritage.

Regretting that the present generation of children are getting addicted to cell phones, he emphasised on the need for educating them on our Kayaka Samskruti and our dignified culture.

Contending that dolls are our natural learning tools, he said that children can learn about different forms of art, farming, nature and the like.

Mysuru SP R. Chethan, who inaugurated the special display section of 'Bombe Mane' said that Dasara opens up a flora of opportunities to have a look at the world beyond cell phones. He further said that 'Bombe Mane' is a representative of eclectic collection of dolls that reflect the cultural flavour of the country, its people, their lives, festivals, Gods, traditions etc.

Noted Mysuru traditional painters B.P. Ramakrishna, Shivaraj Verma, Srinivas Reddy, Shashank Bharadwaj and Ravish Kumar and Kamsale artiste Mahesh were felicitated on the occasion.

Ramsons Kala Pratishtana Chairman Ajay Kumar Singh, Secretary R.G. Singh, Raghu Dharmendra and others were present.

Vitthala Varkari tradition

This 2021 edition of 'Bombe Mane' features Vitthala Varkari tradition. Vitthala is a Kannada deity which is popular since many centuries even before Vijayanagara empire.

A language becomes malleable and subjective in the matter of love, especially when the heart melts looking at a child. Just like 'Krishna' became 'Kitta' in the affectionate tongue of a devotee, 'Vishnu' became 'Vittu' which further transformed into Vitthala'.

Vitthala is the patron deity of three Ashtamathas of Udupi which are, Pejawara, Puthige and Shirur. Just across the ghats, in the plains of Tungabhadra, the boulder ridden stark landmass of the city of Vijayanagara, the capital of Karnataka kingdom, has a shining crown jewel in the form of temple dedicated to Vijaya Vitthala whose stone pillars also sing.

Vitthala visits Pandhari to call upon Pundalika but stays there for ever. Commemorating their deity's visit to Pandharpur, devotees walk from their home towns to Pandharpur twice a year — once to have darshan on Ashadha Ekadashi and once again on the Kartika Ekadashi.

This walking pilgrimage is Varkari in which men and women carry saffron flags, Tulasi pot and with tiny cymbals, mridanga or lute in their hands they walk, dance, twirl in ecstasy singing the divine bhajans and abhangs in praise of Vitthala and his devotees. This Varkari tradition is the highlight at this year's special display section.

Miniature Models at Special Display Section

A major milestone this year is it being the 75th anniversary of Indian Independence. Colourful heritage prints and calendar prints depicting various important events leading upto the Indian Independence along with the stalwarts of those time and their dolls have been displayed at the second special display section of 'Bombe Mane.'

The third special display features the miniature model of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) building which is celebrating its 100th anniversary. It is 125th anniversary of Deputy Commissioner's Office building at Gordon Park. Along with miniature models of these two, the model of St. Philomena's Cathedral forms the third display section.

At 'Bombe Mane,' one can see a representative, eclectic collection of dolls that reflects the cultural flavour of the country, its people, their lives, their festivals and also their Gods.

Visitors can walk into the year-long 'Bombe Mane' exquisite dolls expo and there is NO ENTRY FEE.

Actor Dr. Vishnuvardhan's birth anniversary today

Removal of statue mars celebrations in city

Mysuru, Sept. 18 (RK&DM)- The removal of a 6ft. tall statue of actor Dr. Vishnuvardhan that was proposed to be installed under the aegis of Vishnuvardhan Abhimanigala Balaga at Vishnuvardhan Park located close to Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple at the Palace North Gate to mark his birth anniversary, marred the late actor's birth anniversary celebrations today in the city.

A day ahead of Dr. Vishnuvardhan's birth anniversary, his fans had kept the statue of the actor last night at a covered spot in the park that was meant to be installed today coinciding with the actor's birth anniversary. But the MCC staff and the Police who came to know about the plans for the installation of the statue, took away the statue that was made out of fibre at a cost of Rs. 3 lakh in an early morning joint operation today, as there was no permission for the statue installation.

The fans of the actor, who arrived at Vishnuvardhan Park in large numbers some time later were in for a shock. Riled at the action of the MCC and the Police, they strongly condemned the taking away of the statue which they had got it made through funds raised from the public and entered into a heated argument with the MCC staff and the Police.

The fans staged a snap demonstration at the spot in protest against the MCC and Police action, which caused tension in the area for sometime. Later, the protesting fans pleaded with the authorities for return of the statue, which however was not successful.

Maintaining that the Government was unduly delaying the construction of Vishnuvardhan Memorial, the protesters contended that they have been conducting service activities on the late actor's birth anniversary for the past 10 years without any problems.

Arguing that the removal of the statue of Dr. Vishnuvardhan was an insult to the late actor, the protesters urged the Government to allow permission for the installation of the statue.

Claiming that the statues of 17 personalities had come up in the city overnight unauthorisedly in the past, they questioned why they were not removed. Accusing the officials of selective action, they urged the Government to grant permission for the installation of the statue of the late actor at the earliest.

Following the incident, all services such as blood donation camp, health camp, mass feeding etc., that were organised by Dr. Vishnuvardhan Abhimanigala Balaga today at different parts of the city, were cancelled.

Stressing on the need for the Police to be responsive to the grievances of people, especially those from under-privileged sections of the society, who come to Police Stations seeking help, Chethan observed that a collective and co-ordinated work between Police personnel can help in rendering good service to the people.

Lauding the Police personnel for rendering service to the society by risking their health and life during the COVID crisis, he said that the Police, with their hard work, determination and dedication, have shown to the society how important the Department was for it's safety and security.

Home Minister tables Bill in the Assembly to ban online gaming

Bengaluru, Sept. 18 (UNI)- Karnataka Police (Amendment) Bill, 2021, was tabled in the Legislative Assembly yesterday to ban online gaming or betting by amending the Karnataka Police Act of 1963, with maximum imprisonment of three years and penalty up to Rs. 1 lakh.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra introduced the Bill that seeks to 'ban online games, involving all forms of wagering or betting, including in the form of tokens valued in terms of money paid before or after issue of it. It banned electronic means and virtual currency, electronic transfer of funds in connection with any game of chance'.

However, there is no ban on lottery or betting on horse races on any race course within or outside Karnataka.

The main objective of the Bill is to make effective enforcement of provisions of the Police Act by making provisions as cognisable offence and non-bailable, except Section 87 (gaming in public streets), which is made cognisable and bailable.

Gaming includes the use of cyberspace, including computer resources or any communication device as defined in Information Technology Act, 2000 in the process of gaming, to curb the menace of gaming through internet and mobile apps.

Identity proofs

Sometimes, criminals in the guise of students and IT-BT employees stay in PGs. As all lodges, hotels and shelter homes insist on production of identity proofs such as Aadhaar Card and have CCTV cameras installed in their premises, anti-social elements take shelter in PGs and secluded homes as many of them do not insist on identity proofs.

"We have found that criminals take shelter by creating fake documents and some PG owners are admitting them without bothering to check their identity, as they get more money. Our staff will ask all PGs to check the background of all the inmates and also ascertain the veracity of the documents produced by the inmates as proof of their identity," Dr. Chandragupta said.

CCTV cameras

The Police are instructing the PG owners to affix CCTV cameras both inside and outside the accommodations with a minimum storage capacity of visuals for three months and regularly update information about the inmates to the jurisdictional Police Station. Apart from carrying out checks, the Police are keeping a close watch on suspicious movements in lodges, hotels, restaurants and secluded houses and serviced apartments as part of the security measures taken to ensure the safety and security of the citizens.

Till now, the Mobile Command Centre was only used during Dasara and also during lockdowns to enforce rules.

"The vehicle has 18 cameras including six inside the vehicle and the rest outside that can capture images in one kilometre radius and we are using it for surveillance of secluded spots. All the recorded information is transmitted live to the Command Centre at the City Police Commissioner's Office," Dr. Chandragupta added.

WORD OF THE DAY

Adversary

Pronunciation: AD-ver-sair-ee.
Meaning: Adversary is a word for an enemy or opponent.
Origin: Adversary comes from Latin advertere, meaning "to turn toward." The vertere of advertere means "to turn" and is the source of a number of English words. Along with obvious derivatives like inadvertent and adverse are some surprises, including anniversary, vertebra, and prose (this last coming by way of a Latin contraction of a form of the verb provertere, meaning "to turn forward").
Example: "Large-scale special effects and intrepid derring-do are wedded to themes of clan solidarity, compassion toward adversaries and contrition for past misdeeds in director Cate Shortland's Marvel Comics-derived action adventure." — The Arlington (Virginia) Catholic Herald, 2 Aug. 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Abbozzo

Preliminary sketch.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

Against all odds

Meaning: The phrase 'Against all odds' means despite very low probability; in a most unlikely way.
Origin: Odds literally means the likelihood of success, given a specific set of numbers. The origin of the idiom "against all odds" can be traced to the origin of the word odd, which was first used in a wagering sense by none other than the great William Shakespeare in his 1597 work Henry IV. The pluralization of odd to odds did not happen until the 19th century, so it's likely that this idiom was coined after the use of the word "odds" instead of "odd" came into common use. Who said it first? No one really knows.
Example: "She managed to win the trophy against all odds."
